AFTER BREAKFAST...

There are a few trails of interest on the grounds of Renvyle House which is located on the Wild Atlantic Way, which include a woodland walk and various gardens trails. If you have an hour or so, there are some sights of archaeological interest on the far side of the golf course, which in itself, is a lovely walk along the coast. There is a map of the grounds of Renvyle House and its activities available at Reception.

Further afield there are beautiful beaches and plenty of walks, some walking routes are available at Reception. The Connemara National Park is also worth a visit as is Kylemore Abbey and its Victorian Walled Gardens. Should you wish for some adventure you can start with a cruise along Killary Fjord which is most interesting and from which you can see the famine walk and sometimes the boat is accompanied by a school of dolphins. There is also the Killary Adventure Centre which has numerous activities on site. Scubadive West is close by and is a certified PADI school so you can 'try-a-dive' if you've never done so before.

Another lovely option is a day trip to Inis Bofin on a fine day. There are plenty of sites of interest, beautiful beaches and a few nice eateries on the island.
